

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

OFFICE OF THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF

EDUCATION

Assistant Superintendent of Early Learning

The Challenge & Opportunity

DC is a national leader in early childhood education. We provide universal, full-day, publicly funded pre-Kindergarten for 3- and 4-year olds, and we continue to make deep citywide investments to improve quality and access to early care.

As DC's state education agency, the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE) has focused on early childhood education as a key strategic priority. OSSE's 5-year strategic plan aims to further leverage DC's significant investments in this area to ensure more of our children enter school ready to learn—by improving the quality of care for infants and toddlers, helping more vulnerable families access quality care and improving the transitions between early childhood settings and the early grades.

We are looking for an Assistant Superintendent of the Division of Early Learning who is inspired by the vision that early learning can help close the achievement gap and ensure people of all ages and backgrounds are prepared to succeed in school and in life. We are looking for a strong leader who loves building relationships and collaborating to make a difference for young children and families, especially those who are most vulnerable. The work of the Division of Early Learning is focused on continuously improving access to and quality of early care and education in the District, leveraging resources at the state agency - including policy, funding, and data - and building ecosystem capacity to maximize impact.

The assistant superintendent serves as a member of the agency's leadership team and reports directly to the state superintendent.
