SECTION I: GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1 Background Information

The District of Columbia (“the District”) has a strong economy and a population of 700,000 and growing.<sup>1</sup> In spite of these signs of stability and prosperity, the District also has the highest level of income inequality and one of the highest poverty rates as compared with any other state in the U.S.<sup>2</sup> Unfortunately, these disparities usually fall along racial divides, with significantly higher rates of poverty among residents of color, who are also concentrated in particular wards:

“While the poverty rate for white District residents is 7.9 percent, it is 27.9 percent—nearly four times higher—for Black residents, and 17.8 percent—more than twice as high—for the Latino community. Moreover, Black families earn less than a third of their white counterparts, average 81 times less wealth than white families, and are significantly more likely to be in poverty.”

These disparities can be solidified at a young age, as demonstrated by “achievement gaps” seen as early as kindergarten. In summary, research has demonstrated that where children are born in the District is likely to have far-reaching consequences for their long-term educational and career outcomes without the intervention of high-quality early childhood education.<sup>3</sup>

The Office of the State Superintendent (OSSE) aims to close the achievement gap and the Division of Early Learning within OSSE (OSSE/DEL) supports this goal by working to ensure all children are prepared to enter Kindergarten ready to succeed. Young children remain the fastest-growing population in the District, with over 45,000 children under five. Furthermore, the District has the highest rates of parental employment among families with young children: In 2016, 76 percent of all children under six have all parents in the labor force.<sup>4</sup> This percentage of parents in the working force is higher than any other state. To fill the need created by high percentages of working families, the District has invested in universal pre-K for three and four year olds who are served through a three sector system, DC Public Schools DCPS, public charter schools (PCS) and community based organizations (CBOs). OSSE/DEL also regulates and monitors over 470 licensed child development facilities in the District, including over 250 facilities which accept child care subsidy vouchers, and provide child care year-round in center or family child care home settings to meet families' needs. However, more care and specifically, more affordable care, is still needed. The Bainum Family Foundation Supply and Demand Study demonstrates a significant shortage of child care across the city, as well as the high cost of child care requiring working families to allocate a significant portion of their income to child care costs.<sup>5</sup>

OSSE's Cost of Care Model has demonstrated that in most cases, a provider's estimated cost of delivering early care and education services exceeds the revenue generally available to provide care at different levels of quality. Additionally, the ECE Fiscal Hub Pilot project in Philadelphia has indicated that when child care owners and directors "have difficulty making ends meet and are focused on sustaining day-to-day operations, their capacity to plan for long-term sustainability and take advantage of new funding opportunities is greatly reduced."<sup>6</sup> The cost model illustrates the cost of providing early care and education in different settings (e.g. centers vs. homes) for different age groups at different levels of quality. The report highlights the importance of maximizing revenues to help centers and homes account for the costs associated with operating early care and education facilities. The level of business acumen among the District's child development facilities varies tremendously<sup>7</sup> and many need assistance with business practices, such as developing and understanding operating budgets, setting tuition rates or recruiting the appropriate balance of subsidy-eligible and private pay families that will sustain their center or home and provide reliable care for the many families that need it.

OSSE/DEL, as the lead agency for the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG), is required to “develop and implement strategies to strengthen the business practices of child care providers to expand the supply and to improve the quality of child care services (98.16(z)).”<sup>8</sup> OSSE/DEL recognizes that strong business practices are a necessary precursor to achieving, sustaining and expanding high-quality child development facilities in the District and that financially sustainable child care providers are fundamental to the success and growth of the District’s economy and to the positive growth and development of our youngest learners. Similarly, the Transforming the Financing of Early Care and Education report by the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine states the following:

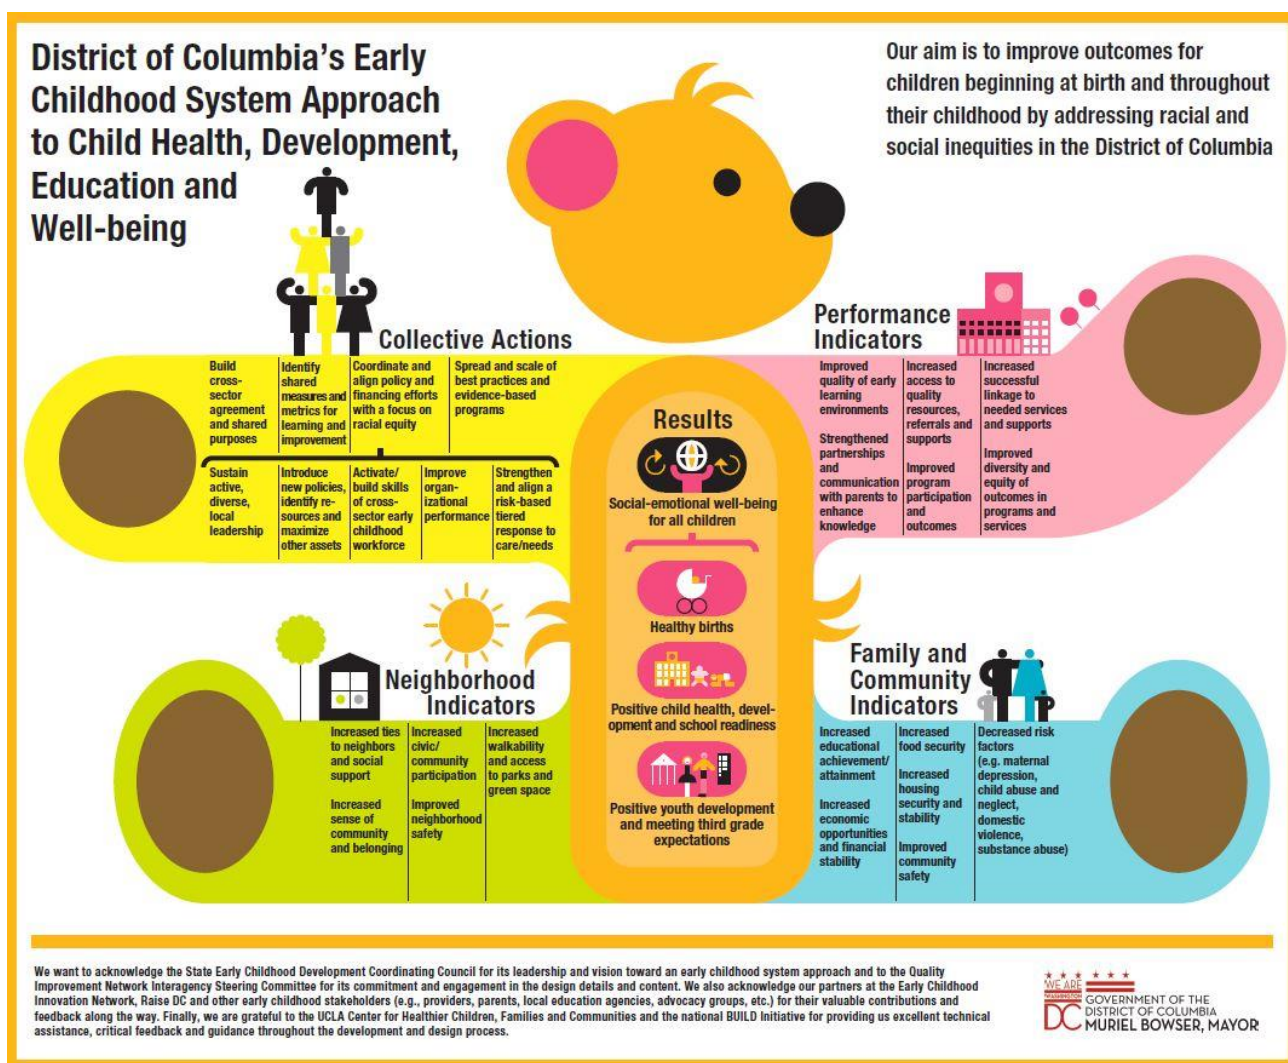

“The transition to a high-quality early childhood education (ECE) system will also require expanded efforts to support the ECE workforce with business, planning, and financial management tools, resources and technical assistance (TA). As ECE providers, both center- and home-based, increase the quality of their services, it will also be important to ensure that these operations are sustainable. Access to high-quality early care and education depends on the viability of providers.”

The District’s vision is that all young children will have equitable access to high-quality opportunities to maximize their full potential for a successful quality of life in their communities. This vision is supported by the District of Columbia’s Early Childhood System Approach to Child Health, Development, Education and Well-being. This visual representation (See Figure 1 below) includes our shared results for children birth to age eight, the systems’ performance indicators, the collective actions of the cross sector public and private partners required to achieve the results and the neighborhood and family and community indicators that contribute to the results and to improved outcomes for children.

Figure 1: District's Early Childhood Systems Approach to Child Health, Development, Education and Well-being

More specifically, OSSE/DEL launched three grants in 2016-17 to help improve the quality of early care and education in the District through direct quality improvement support, improved consumer education and awareness and increased supports for the business and administrative needs of child development home providers. These initiatives include the District's redesigned Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS), Capital Quality, the child care resource and referral (CCR&R) program and a Shared Service Business Alliance for Homes.

First, the QRIS initiative was developed as a systemic approach to assess, improve and communicate the level of quality in early care and education programs. Quality facilitators provide onsite training and TA to support early childhood care and education administrators in using a continuous quality improvement process. All child development facilities that participate in the District's Subsidized Child Care Program are required to participate in Capital Quality. Non-subsidy facilities are encouraged to participate but it is voluntary. As of April 2019, 228 of the District's 474 child development facilities are participating in Capital Quality and receive weekly coaching and facilitation support.

Second, DC Child Care Connections (DC CCC), the District's Child Care Resource and Referral program, creates an integrated system of supports and services for families and child care providers in the District, including professional development and technical assistance. DC CCC operates a hotline and a website to help families identify and select child care that meets their needs. DC CCC utilizes My Child Care DC to share information about licensed child development facilities and provides referrals and linkages to other public and private sector agencies that provides resources supports and services for families (e.g. vouchers, Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children, TANF etc..) and child development facilities (e.g. Department of Consumer and Regulatory Affairs, Department of Energy and the Environment and the Low Income Investment Fund etc.. ). DC Child Care Connections resources include a lending library and the Early Childhood Share DC (www.ecsharedc.org) website, an online resource-sharing platform serving early care and education professionals in the District of Columbia. EC Share DC offers licensed facilities bulk purchasing power and a knowledge hub of customizable resources that make it easier to develop and implement high-quality child care programming. As of April 1, 2019, 764 individuals have created an account with 312 child development facilities represented. The top accessed resources include: HR resources (employee handbook and hiring/termination process); handwashing posters; curriculum links page; feeding picky eaters; and forms: program administration check list. DC CCC also supports early educators through the management of the District's professional development system including the Trainer Approval Program (TAP), providing one-on-one TA and professional development (PD). DC CCC conducts outreach in the community and works collaboratively with the other grantees funded by OSSE/DEL to leverage their expertise and support. The DC CCC program supports Capital Quality by providing responsive services and evidence-based supports that promote high-quality early care and education in DC. DC CCC aims to support early childhood educators and administrators, families and the larger early childhood community.

Finally, the Shared Services Business Alliance (the Alliance) supports the long-term viability of child development homes and expanded homes by providing services and TA on business administration topics in order to free up time and energy for delivering quality care. As of April 2019, the Alliance has 42 members from across the District. The Alliance is focused on establishing a network for child development homes and expanded homes to access best practice information and TA and utilize the economies of scale that result from shared business services.

Through the implementation of these three grants, OSSE/DEL has received data, both formally and informally, that speaks to a demand for more enhanced and streamlined communication for families about licensing and QRIS, more individualized and targeted support for early educators and administrators in how to enhance the quality of their classrooms and facilities, a significant need for shared services in small centers and enhanced and coordinated technical assistance around business practices and business development for child development facilities. For example, there were a total of 39 trainings, totaling 80 hours of formal professional development hours, delivered through these three grants in the following areas:

- Basics of business: Overview of key topics, including developing operating budget and understanding expenditures, introductions to marketing to families, how to organize your business and how to interview staff candidates: 36.5 hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA and 764 individual user accounts on EC Share DC.

- Building a sustainable business through strategic planning: using the Business Administration Scale (BAS)/Program Administration Scale (PAS) financial health inventories or other business planning tools, planning for professional development: 12 hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA.
- Marketing: More in-depth tools including social media: 8 hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA.
- Accreditation and the National Association of Education for Young Children (NAEYC) Best Practices: Using the NAEYC Code of Ethical Conduct, Accreditation: 6 hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA.
- Management and Leadership: Promoting peak performance, payroll, attracting and recruiting staff, team building, etc.: 12 hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA.
- Networking and Outreach: Community outreach and working with other District agencies, including Department of Community and Regulatory Affairs (DCRA): four hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA.
- Computer Literacy: Microsoft office applications and Quickbase continuous quality improvement plan: two hours in addition to individual one-on-one TA.

1.2 General Information

1.2.1 Introduction

To respond to challenges described in 1.1 Background and to continue expand and build the capacity of the District's child development facility owners and directors in regards to business and administrative issues, the Division of Early Learning within the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE/DEL) is soliciting applications for the Building and Sustaining Quality Early Care and Education Grant. This new funding opportunity will leverage existing relationships and align these three previous grant opportunities to more strategically align these efforts and create a more focused approach on supporting the business and administrative needs of child development facilities in order to bolster the quality of their learning environments, maximize parental choice through clear and reliable information and more effective engagement and support for families as their child's first and most important teacher. The OSSE/DEL theory of change for these three grants is outlined below.

The aim of this grant is to transform the District's system of early care and education by:

- Providing more consistent, plain language and transparent information to families about licensed care and the District's Capital Quality initiative and by connecting them to the resources and supports they need to support their child's development.
- Meeting the emerging financial and operational challenges that impact the long-term viability of child development facilities in the District.
- Supporting child development facilities in delivering quality, reliable and professional care to the District's families, and in doing so, prepare them for kindergarten and close the achievement gap.

OSSE is consolidating these three grants into one RFA in order to be responsive to the need for more coordination and collaboration across these three Program Areas. Each Program Area will build on the existing infrastructure established by the previous grants. Eligible applicants may apply for one, two or three Program Areas. Details on each Program Area are found in the Purpose of Funds section of this document. Applicants may also apply in a consortium to cover one or more Program Areas, as detailed in Eligibility.

1.2.2 Purpose of Funds

The goal of the Building and Sustaining Quality Early Care and Education Grant is to build the capacity of DC's early care and education system to expand and enhance quality services for young children and their families. This RFA will support activities that address the identified and documented business and administrative needs of child development facility owners, center directors and child development home caregivers and activities that support positive, goal-oriented communications and relationships with parents/guardians in their role as their child's first and most important teacher.

OSSE/DEL is combining three grants into one grant with three Program Areas to align the strategies and enhance collaboration and coordination among interested organizations. Each Program Area will build on the infrastructure established by the current grantees. Collaboration and coordination will be expected among applicants in all three Program Areas. Services must continue uninterrupted and as such, are detailed in Section 1.3.1. Grantee Responsibilities. However, the nature of the consortium and the approach to family engagement, technical assistance, professional development and cultural and linguistic diversity are areas for innovation. Successful applicants must demonstrate a use of evidence-based, trauma informed approaches to care and learning.

Applicants may apply to one, two or all three Program Areas. The maximum award amount is linked to each Program Area. Applicants applying for one Program Area will apply for the corresponding amount of that Program Area. Applicants applying for two Program Areas will add the two corresponding amounts to yield the total amount for which they can apply. Applicants applying for all three Program Areas are eligible for up to $3,150,000.

Details on each Program Area are found below.

Program Area	Purpose	$ Amount in Year 1 Per Award
1: Quality Rating and Improvement System: coaching, job-embedded professional development, materials and supplies to improve the quality of settings	Provide universal, focused and individualized coaching, facilitation and professional development to child development facilities enrolled in the District's QRIS program, Capital Quality. In particular support participating facilities in developing a Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) plan, which includes a set of quality standards that are aligned with Head Start and NAEYC. The QRIS includes support for facilities in designing and implementing quality improvement strategies and purchasing materials and supplies needed to achieve and maintain quality programming. The QRIS team is responsible for monitoring, tracking and measuring progress.	$1,530,000
2: DC Child Care Connections: Child Care Resource & Referral	Help families identify and select child care and navigate the subsidized child care program, enhance families' knowledge of child development and connect them to needed services and supports through partnerships with District government agency partners. Provide information about the quality of licensed child development facilities and help families	$1,120,000

	understand how to look for quality practices. Regularly attend community events to provide information and resources to parents, families and child care providers throughout the District. The CCR&amp;R supports families who need early care and education resources via telephone, in-person and through an online searchable database. The CCR&amp;R also coordinates with the Teacher Education and Compensation Helps (T.E.A.C.H.) grant program and the Higher Education Incentive (HEI) scholarship program at UDC to support ECE educators seeking higher education degrees. DC Child Care Connections builds and maintains a network of public and private agencies that work collaboratively to deliver high-quality services and supports to families seeking child care and other assistance. Through their network, CCR&amp;R offers one-on-one technical assistance to both providers and families in order to meet their needs. Maintains an effective system of supports and services, including managing the Early Childhood Share DC web-based platform and managing the District's Trainer Approval Program (TAP) and ongoing professional development for the early childhood workforce / leaders, as well as families / parents and the community.
3: Shared Services Business Alliance	Build on the Early Childhood Share DC shared services platform to enhance efficiencies and allow child development	$500,000 homes and small child development centers to have more time and resources to focus on quality improvement strategies. Provide back office services and assistance on business administration topics to a network of facilities.

TOTAL	See above	$3,150,000 (for applicants applying for all three Program Areas)

1.2.3 Eligibility

OSSE/DEL will accept applications from eligible applicants. Only not-for-profit, for-profit community based organizations, faith-based organizations, and agencies are eligible for this grant. Eligible applicants must have experience in business and financial management, system design, early childhood and a working knowledge of the District's early childhood landscape. Additionally, eligible applicants must demonstrate knowledge of child development facility licensing regulations and knowledge of child development and developmentally-appropriate practice in early childhood education.

Competencies will be scored as detailed in Section 1.5.2 Scoring Rubric. Expectations of the grantee(s) are spelled out in Section 1.3.1 General Grantee Responsibilities. Specific expertise required varies based on Program Area, as detailed in Section 1.5.2 Scoring Rubric.

Award amounts are linked to each Program Area. Applicants may submit an application for one, two or all three Program Areas. Applicants applying for more than one Program Area must apply as a consortium, meaning that one primary applicant will manage the grant and will contract directly with other organizations/partners. OSSE expects to award one primary applicant or single, non-consortium applicant to cover each of the three Program Areas or one to two consortium(s) to cover 2-3 Program Areas. Ultimately, OSSE will award grants to applicants so that all three Program Areas will be implemented. Entities may apply as part of more than one consortium.

For a consortium application, OSSE will award the grant in the name of the primary applicant, not the consortium. The relationship between the primary grantee and a consortium member is a contractual relationship. The primary grantee may not subgrant any funds to a consortium member. As such, the primary grantee will be fiscally responsible for the administration of the grant and for achieving progress towards the grant objectives. To the extent that any Program Area will be covered by contracted partner organizations, the applicant should demonstrate a clear structure of this arrangement and plan to monitor and ensure quality control. The roles and responsibilities of the primary applicant and contractor must be clearly outlined in a partnership agreement submitted with the grant application. Example arrangements are outlined below:

- Primary applicant covers Program Area One, contractor covers Program Area Two, contractor covers Program Area Three
- Primary applicant covers Program Areas One and Two, contractor covers Program Area Three
- Primary applicant covers 75 percent of Program Area One, contractor covers 25 percent of Program Area One

1.2.4 Source of Funds

The funds are being made available through District of Columbia local funds and federal funds. Federal funds are made available through and authorized by the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 2014, effective November 19, 2014 ((P.L. 113-186; 42 U.S.C. 9858 et seq.)

District of Columbia local funds are made available through and authorized by a strategic District-wide effort to increase access to high-quality early education and to support DC's Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) Plan through the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 2014, effective November 19, 2014 ((P.L. 113-186; 42 U.S.C. 9858 et seq.) .

Grantees will be subject to requirements set forth in federal statutes and any accompanying regulations. OSSE maintains the right to adjust the grant award and amount based on funding availability.

1.2.5 Award Period

The period for this grant will be four years, ending on September 30, 2023, contingent upon availability of funds and compliance with terms and conditions of the grant. Each budget period will be one year, with the first period ending September 30, 2020. Grantees must re-apply each year for continued funding.

Continuation of awards in subsequent years is contingent upon:

- the availability of funds;
- the grantee's demonstration that substantial progress has been made toward meeting the objectives set forth in the approved application, based on ongoing monitoring and review of the grantee;
- compliance with District and Federal laws, regulations, and guidance;
- operation of the grant program as submitted in the application; and
- the appropriate expenditure of funds throughout each grant award period.

1.2.6 Funds Available

The total funding available for developing and implementing the Building and Sustaining Quality Early Care and Education Grant is $3,150,000 for the first year for implementation of all three Program Areas. The amount in subsequent years may vary based on the scaling up of the District's QRIS, as outlined below. OSSE/DEL anticipates issuing one to three awards from this funding opportunity. The maximum grant amount is broken down by Program Area, as detailed below. Applicants may apply for the amount corresponding to the Program Area or areas to which they are applying. For example, if you are applying for all three amounts, you may request the full amount for all three Program Areas.

Program Area One: QRIS: $1,530,000 in Year 1; $1,655,000 in Year 2; $1,780,000 in Year 3; $1,905,000 in Year 4. The grant amount tied to Program Area One will increase each year as OSSE continues to add new child development facilities to the QRIS system, which will in turn require additional quality facilitators.

Program Area Two: CCR&R: $1,120,000 each year

Program Area Three: Shared Services Business Alliance: $500,000 in Year 1. The award amount will decrease in subsequent years as fees for services are phased in.

OSSE maintains the right to adjust the grant award and amount based on funding availability. Successful applicants may be awarded amounts less than requested.

1.2.7 Permissible Use of Grant Funds

Grant funds shall only be used to support activities delineated in Section 1.3.1 General Grantee Responsibilities and the budget included in the applicant's submission.

1.3 Program Scope

1.3.1 General Grantee Responsibilities Overview

<sup>9</sup> The reliability of an instrument refers to the consistency of scores over time and among different raters (Kubiszyn & Borich, 2003). There are several important types of reliability that are relevant to the Environment Rating Scales including test-retest reliability, internal consistency, and interrater reliability.     - v. Positive behavioral intervention
    - vi. DC CCELS
    - vii. Business practices of child development centers and homes

<sup>10</sup> Communities of practice (CoPs) are typically participant-centered as opposed to a more traditional training model in which a trainer delivers content to participants in a lecture format. CoPs require facilitation but focus on participants engaging in content-specific discussions and activities and often resemble group practice-based coaching. CoPs are monthly professional development sessions that incorporate the CoP model and focus on content/research-based practices based on the Environment Rating Scales (ERS) and Classroom Assessment Scoring System (CLASS).

- viii. Special considerations for non-traditional hour-based providers
  - c. Manage the Trainer Approval Program (TAP) process: The TAP is the program through which trainers become certified to provide professional learning units in the early childhood education settings in the District. This will include:
    - i. Reviewing applications, assembling review panels for the sample training module presentations, scheduling the presentations, assigning new trainer numbers and sending communications regarding application decisions.
    - ii. Holding an annual Train-the-Trainer session for all TAP-certified trainers in December.
    - iii. Holding an information session for all interested TAP applicants in December.
    - iv. Responding to all inquiries regarding the TAP application process.

  - d. Deliver structured professional development in core knowledge areas through well-established small-group training opportunities; provide one-on-one TA, coaching and onsite consultation services to systematically respond to providers in need of specialized and informative resources, complementing the work of the Shared Services Business Alliance and quality facilitators. Professional development provided will be in the areas mentioned above in 1.d.: Maintain in-house expertise. Professional development will cover business administration topics and coordination will be expected among the Program Areas to ensure that the same topics are not delivered multiple times.

    - ii. The grantee will facilitate community outreach (e.g., information sessions, coordination with community partners and events) to educate families and the community on Capital Quality designations, what makes a quality early learning program and how participation in Capital Quality engages early learning programs in a process of continuous quality improvement.
  - b. Adopt a framework for parent, family and community engagement that:
    - i. Addresses the role of parents/families as their child's first and most important teacher. Provide individualized technical assistance and support to families' seeking child care, helping them navigate child care policies and practices, the voucher system and make informed choices regarding the services that best suit their needs. Such information is to include, but are not limited to: what quality child care looks like and the importance of quality in promoting positive child development; provide early childhood support to all District children and families that is based in authentic feedback from the families served as well as, the other support programs; and the process of identification of developmental delays and disabilities and supports available for families of young children identified as having developmental delays and disabilities (e.g., Strong Start, Early Stages). ## 1.4 Award Administration

1.4.1 Grant Award Notice and Payments

In order to be awarded a grant, organizations must establish eligibility by submitting an application to OSSE in accordance with the relevant program statute(s) and this RFA. Each awarded applicant will receive a Grant Award Notification (GAN) generated through OSSE's enterprise grant management system (EGMS) that will include the award amount, award agreement, terms and conditions of the award and any supplemental information required. Once OSSE has fully approved the application and issued an official GAN, grantees may then receive payment for allowable expenditures for which obligation was made during the grant period. OSSE has implemented a reimbursement process for all grantees. Grant award payments are reimbursable on a monthly basis. Program costs must be paid by the grantee to the payee prior to requesting reimbursement; it is not sufficient for costs merely to be incurred. Compliance with programmatic and fiscal implementation and reporting will be considered in paying reimbursement requests. To receive reimbursement for grant program expenditures, OSSE grantees must complete and submit a reimbursement request electronically using EGMS.

1.4.2 Audits

At any time, or times, before final payment and during the required record retention period, the District and/or the federal government may audit the applicant's expenditure statements and source documentation.

The recipient will cooperate with any evaluation of the program, such as providing OSSE requested data and access to records and pertinent staff. OSSE grant managers will monitor program services and grant administration pursuant to the terms of the grant agreement and will make onsite visits. Monitoring efforts are designed to determine the grantee's level of compliance with federal and/or District requirements and identify specifically whether the grantee's operational, financial and management systems and practices are adequate to account for program funds in accordance with federal and/or District requirements. Failure to maintain compliance with such requirements may result in payment suspension, disallowance of costs or termination of the grant.

Grantees shall be required to cooperate with all requirements and information requests by OSSE relating to evaluation of the program and the collection of data, information and reporting on outcomes regarding the program and activities carried out with grant funds. Grantees shall be required to reply and acknowledge OSSE's information requests within 48 hours and to provide requested information within ten (10) business days.

The grantee will be required to report information in a manner consistent with OSSE's database management information system requirements, which will be clarified with the grantee. The quarterly program reports will describe the grantee's and sub-grantees' financial health, outline progress in achieving the goals and objectives of the program and recommend steps for continuous improvement. Reporting may require detailed, as well as aggregate reporting of accomplishments.

Quarterly reports will be due the 10th of the month following the end of each fiscal quarter.

The grant recipient shall ensure that no individual in a decision-making capacity will engage in any activity, including participation in the selection of a vendor, the administration of an award or an activity supported by award funds, if the appearance of a conflict of interest would be involved. An appearance of a conflict of interest would arise when the individual, any member of the individual's immediate family, the individual's partner; or an organization that employs, or is about to employ, any of the aforementioned, has a financial or personal interest in the firm or organization selected for a contract.

1.4.7 General Terms and Conditions

- a. Funding for this award is contingent on OSSE's continued availability of funds. The RFA does not commit OSSE to make an award.
- b. OSSE reserves the right to accept or deny any or all applications if OSSE determines it is its best interest to do so. OSSE shall notify the applicant if it rejects that applicant's proposal. OSSE may suspend or terminate an outstanding RFA pursuant to its own grant-making rule(s) or any applicable federal regulation or requirement.
- c. OSSE reserves the right to issue addenda and/or amendments subsequent to the issuance of the RFA, or to rescind the RFA.

1.5 Award Process

1.5.1 Review Panel

OSSE/DEL will make the funds available through a competitive process to identify eligible organizations with experience in the child care field that are interested in implementing the Building and Sustaining Quality Early Care and Education grant. Applications that meet all eligibility and application requirements will be evaluated, scored and rated by an OSSE/DEL designated review panel.

OSSE/DEL will use external peer reviewers to review and score the applications received for this RFA. External peer reviewers may include employees of the District of Columbia government who are not employed by OSSE. An external peer reviewer is an expert in the field or the subject matter. The final decision to fund applicants rests solely with OSSE/DEL. After reviewing the recommendations of the review panel and any other relevant information, OSSE/DEL shall decide which applicant to fund.

1.5.2 Scoring Rubric

1.5.2.1 Overview

The purpose and content of each section is described below. Applicants should include all information necessary to adequately describe the proposed project. The scoring of the application is based on a 100-point scale. These criteria allow the external peer reviewers and OSSE staff to determine an applicant's justification of need for grant funds, the soundness of its proposed service delivery plan, the adequacy and reasonableness of proposed resources needed and demonstrated capability for managing the proposed program.

1.5.2.2 Executive Summary
