OSSE's Division of Early Learning and Division of Elementary, Secondary, and Specialized Education are teaming up to host It Takes a City: DC Does it Best!

This institute is for you if you are an early childhood, K-12, or adult education professional serving DC students ages 0 to 22.

Participants will reflect on high quality and innovative evidence- and research-based practices in education and learn new strategies for success in improving outcomes for all children in the District.
