BETWEEN

OFFICE OF THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION,

Educational Services for Youth Committed to and/or in the custody of the Department of Youth Rehabilitation Services
I. INTRODUCTION AND PURPOSE

The Office of the State Superintendent of Education (“OSSE”), the Department of Youth Rehabilitation Services (“DYRS”), and the District of Columbia Public Schools (“DCPS”), enter into this Memorandum of Agreement (“MOA”) regarding educational services for certain youth committed to and/or in the custody of DYRS.

The purpose of this MOA is to improve educational outcomes for youth committed to and/or in the custody of DYRS by minimizing disruption in general and special educational services during times of transition between DYRS placements by facilitating the prompt transfer of records, requiring continued coordination and involvement by representatives of DYRS and DCPS, monitoring the delivery of educational services, meeting the special education needs and providing other required accommodations to children with qualifying disabilities, and facilitating the transition of committed youth between school settings to improve outcomes and promote further schooling or employment. Additionally, the purpose of this MOA is to ensure compliance with local law applicable to children of compulsory school age including without limitation the requirements in regard to enrollment in secondary school and truancy.

The parties to this MOA agree that each participating agency is responsible for the duties and obligations set forth herein.

II. POPULATION SERVED

This MOA applies to youth housed at Youth Services Center (YSC), youth housed at New Beginnings Youth Development Center (New Beginnings), and youth committed to DYRS and placed in one of the categories expanded upon in Sections VI-XII of this MOA.

III. DEFINITIONS

Awaiting placement

A status of youth that are committed to the Department of Youth Rehabilitation Services (DYRS) and awaiting acceptance to and/or physical placement in a local or out of state facility, typically a group home, a residential treatment center, a psychiatric residential treatment facility, a residential school, or a therapeutic foster home.

Confinement

Placement through order of a court in a secured and locked facility. Other out-of-home placements such as shelters, halfway houses, or treatment facilities are generally not considered secured and locked facilities.

Certificate of Approval (COA)

A document issued by OSSE to the legal entity responsible for governing and operating a nonpublic special education school or program following a determination by OSSE that the nonpublic special education school or program meets the requirements of applicable District law and regulations, including D.C. Code § 38-2561.07 and Chapter 28, Title 5-A of the District of Columbia Municipal Regulations.

Commitment

The act or process of transferring legal custody of a child to the care of DYRS. (NOTE: After a judge determines that a child is delinquent or in need of supervision, one of the options that the judge has is to commit or transfer legal responsibility of the child to the care of the DYRS. After the commitment to DYRS, the agency will decide whether the child will be securely confined, placed in a treatment facility, placed in a community placement, or returned home; and what services the child needs.)

Community Placement

A placement option for youth who are committed to DYRS, wherein youth live in a community setting such as the youth’s home, therapeutic foster home, residential school, or group home.

Days

Calendar days unless otherwise specified.

Detainment/Detention/Detain

Temporary confinement of a juvenile in a secure facility before trial. See D.C. Code § 16-2301(13). (NOTE: Detention is imposed after a judge determines that a youth must remain in custody prior to a delinquency proceeding for his/her own protection or the protection of society, or to ensure his/her appearance at the hearing. Detention for youth is different from detention for adults, both because juveniles do not have a right to bail and because youth in detention generally receive education and treatment services.)
Legal custody

The protective care or guardianship of a child that is determined by order of a court. A court order may give a custodian physical custody of a child, and may determine where and with whom the child shall live. The agency that is given legal custody has the right and duty to protect, train, and discipline the child, and the responsibility to provide the child with food, shelter, education, and ordinary medical care. Legal custody is not the same as parental rights. See D.C. Code § 16-2301(21).

This obligation of the parent, guardian, or other person having custody or control of the minor extends until the minor reaches the age of 18 years or graduates with a regular diploma prior to such age. (D.C. Official Code § 38-202) (emphasis added).

B. Enrollment in School

Commitment of a youth of compulsory school age to the custody of DYRS includes the legal authority and responsibility of DYRS to provide for the education of the youth, which includes enrolling the minor youth in school. Commitment of a minor youth to DYRS, however, does not extinguish a parent’s educational rights, and DYRS shall work cooperatively with parents to ensure that a minor youth is enrolled in school. If not already enrolled at the time of commitment. However, in the case that a parent has not enrolled a minor youth in school within five (5) school days of commitment to DYRS, a DYRS placement change returning the youth to the community, or the beginning of a school year, DYRS shall exercise its authority to enroll the youth in school.
