FY 2024 OPERATING BUDGET

EDUCATION

What are we doing now?

- $2B in funding from the Uniform Per Student Funding Formula (UPSFF) towards public and public charter schools
- $18M to support schools in weathering the effects of the pandemic through the Mayor's Recovery Fund
- $14M for preventative maintenance of schools' heating and cooling systems

What new investments are we making in FY 2024?

- $145M to support a 5.05% increase to the foundation of the UPSFF
- $20M to continue supporting schools feeling the effects of the pandemic through the Mayor's Recovery Fund
- $116M to support raising the wages of teachers in both public and public charter schools
- $5M to begin planning and implementing "My Afterschool DC," an online central hub for parents to access afterschool opportunities for their children within the District

- $1.6M to begin planning and implementing a Teacher Apprenticeship Program to train future teachers in the District
- $6.8M in the Special Education Enhancement Fund to fund dedicated childcare slots for infants and toddlers with disabilities and out-of-school time slots for children with disabilities and a referral system
- Raising the eligibility for the childcare subsidy from 250% of the federal poverty line to 300% of the federal poverty line

FY24 Budget Highlights

- Mayor's budget proposal included raising income eligibility for child care subsidy from 250 to 300 percent of federal poverty level.
 - The Division of Early Learning (DEL) estimates that 5,200 children ages 0-13 will be newly income-eligible for subsidy.
- Budget authority will allow DEL to launch a grant program for child care for children with special needs in FY24.
 - DEL will seek stakeholder input on program design in coming months.
- Many coronavirus (COVID-19) relief grants expire Sept. 30, 2023; DEL will continue to spend American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) CCDF funds in FY24 to support child care subsidy program and DC Leading Educators toward Advanced Degrees (DC LEAD).

Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) State Plan, FY2025-2027

What is CCDF?

- CCDF is the primary source of federal funding for child care assistance for families with low incomes and to improve the quality of care for all children.
- CCDF is a federal-state partnership.
 - The federal government provides funding and states contribute matching and maintenance-of-effort (MOE) funds.
 - States have flexibility to set child care subsidy policies under a broad federal framework.
 - CCDF generally covers three areas of child care services:
 - Child care subsidy
 - Health and safety
 - Quality improvement

CCDF in the District of Columbia

- In FY24, The District of Columbia will receive $15.3 million in federal CCDF funding.
- The Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE) serves as the lead agency responsible for administering the CCDF program.
- CCDF funds support a variety of activities:
 - Child care subsidy payments for eligible early learners and school-aged children 3-13 enrolled in before/afterschool programs
 - Other activities to support the District's early learning system, including:
 - Child care licensing
 - Programs to improve quality and supply, such as Capital Quality and Shared Services Business Alliance
 - Resources to assist families in finding care, such as DC Child Care Connections and My Child Care DC
 - Professional development and scholarships for early educators
- OSSE combines CCDF funds, local funding and TANF funds to support the child care subsidy program.
- In FY23, average monthly enrollment in child care subsidy is 5,793 children.

What is the CCDF State Plan?

- The CCDF State Plan serves as a state's application for CCDF funds. It provides descriptions and assurances about the state's child care program and services.
- States Plans are submitted to the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF) in the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) on a triennial basis.
 - ACF uses the State Plan as the basis for monitoring states' compliance with the requirements of the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act.
- The District's current CCDF State Plan for FY22-24 is posted on OSSE's website: osse.dc.gov/publication/dc-child-care-and-development-fund.
- The District's current CCDF State Plan, submitted in July 2021, covers the period from Oct. 1, 2021-Sept. 30, 2024.
- The District's CCDF State Plan for FY25-27 is due July 1, 2024.

CCDF State Plan Process

- The District's CCDF State Plan describes the programs and services available to eligible District residents and the processes and activities the District will conduct to meet CCDF requirements over a three-year time period.
- It is prepared in consultation and collaboration with multiple entities, including the SECDCC and with opportunities for public review and input.
- Specifically, OSSE will consult with SECDCC on:
 - Overall development of the state plan
 - OSSE's statewide disaster plan for child care facilities
 - OSSE's training and professional development framework
 - OSSE's alternative methodology (cost model) for setting subsidy payment rates
