

Course Section	Title	Description	Credits	Requisite Courses	Start	End	Meeting Dates	Meeting Time	Location
BIO-120-A	Introduction to the Biological World	Introduces non-majors to the biological world around them. Energy production, storage, and conversion are explored. A survey of life leads from single-celled organisms to chordates. The basic functioning of the systems of the human body is examined. Liberal Arts Core Designation: Natural Science (NS).	3	none	Monday, May 22, 2023	Tuesday, June 27, 2023	Face to Face Monday, Wednesday	09:30AM - 01:00PM	Main Campus
BIO-120L-A	Introduction to the Biological World Lab	A laboratory designed to strengthen and support the topics presented in BIO 120 Introduction to the Biological World. Prerequisite or corequisite: BIO 120.	1	none	Monday, May 22, 2023	Tuesday, June 27, 2023	Face to Face Monday, Wednesday	01:00PM - 04:00PM	Main Campus
COMM-101-A	Public Speaking	Students gain knowledge of principles and theories of oral communication regarding the design, creation, and delivery of several types of speeches; analysis of the audience and public speaking situation; and experiential practice in both public speaking performance and evaluation. Communication majors must earn a grade of C- or higher.	3	none	Monday, May 22, 2023	Tuesday, June 27, 2023	Fully on line and Some Synchronous on Monday, Wednesday	09:00AM - 12:00PM	Online and In Person - must be free to meet at this time
MA-132-B	Statistical Analysis	An introduction to basic descriptive and inferential statistical procedures used in the analysis of data. Prerequisites: complete university's directed self-placement process or a grade of C or better in MA 094 or MA 095; placement into or completion of EN 101. Liberal Arts Core Designation: Mathematics (MT)	3	transcripts of previous math - permission of department	Monday, July 10, 2023	Wednesday, August 9, 2023	Fully on line and Some Synchronous on Monday, Wednesday	10:30AM - 12:00PM	Online and In Person - must be free to meet at this time
PH-100-A	Exploring Philosophy	What do we believe about the world, and why? How should we reach reasoned conclusions about ourselves, society, and even reality itself? This course explores the ideas of philosophers past and present. Topics may include justice, freedom, knowledge, reality, love, death, and the meaning of life. Prerequisites/co-requisites: none. Liberal Arts Core Requirements Designation: Philosophy (PH).	3	none	Monday, May 22, 2023	Tuesday, June 27, 2023	Face-to-Face Monday, Wednesday, Thursday	09:00AM - 12:00PM	Main Campus