Section I: General Information

1.1 Introduction

The Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE), Division of Health and Wellness is soliciting applications for the Healthy Tots Wellness Grant Program (WGP). The purpose of the Healthy Tots Wellness Grant is to support the dissemination of healthy eating, physical activity, and wellness programming in the District of Columbia early child care community. As such, the grant supports individual behavior changes as well as policy and environmental changes that will promote good health for child development facilities, including licensed community-based facilities and homes.

1.2 Background

The Healthy Tots Act (HTA) of 2014, effective February 26, 2015 (DC Law 20-155; DC Official Code §638-281 et. seq.) builds on the success of the DC Healthy Schools Act by extending many of its key nutrition, physical activity and wellness provisions to child development facilities, helping level the playing field between community and school-based providers. The HTA aims to reduce obesity and improve the health, wellness, and nutritional status of the more than 6,000 number of children enrolled in community-based child care and family daycare homes in the District of Columbia through healthy meals, physical activity, and nutrition education. In addition to providing reimbursements for facilities to serve more nutritious meals, the HTA requires OSSE to make competitive grants available to support child care facilities in the dissemination of healthy eating, physical activity, and wellness education initiatives in the District of Columbia early child care community.

OSSE is awarding funding to organizations that can provide technical assistance and help implement wellness programming at targeted community-based child care facilities in the District of Columbia. The selected applicants will be required to build capacity and sustainable partnerships within the early learning community. Applicants will be awarded funding to implement programming in these six areas:

- Gardening/Environmental Sustainability
- Farm to Childcare/Local Food Procurement
- Nutrition Education
- Physical Activity & Education
- Staff Wellness & Center Wellness Policy
- Family Style Dining

Early exposure to nutritious foods, physical activity, and wellness programming can impact a young child’s lifelong determinants of health and well-being. Various studies show that early childhood is a critical period for rapid growth and brain development. Many of the risks for the diseases of adult life (e.g. heart disease) are, in part shaped by learning, coping, and decision-making skills that are set in the earliest years of life. These skills determine performance in the school system and set children onto life pathways that in turn, affect their health and well-being over time.

Child development facilities are uniquely positioned to help children develop the strong bodies and minds needed for success in preschool and beyond.3

OSSE contends that by successfully implementing wellness programming at the over 150 child care facilities participating in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP), child care facilities are able to provide an early childhood environment that supports good health, nutrition, and physical activity.

1.3 Intended Population

The intended beneficiaries of the Healthy Tots Wellness Grant Program are young children between the ages of 0 through 5 who attend community-based child care facilities in the District of Columbia. Grants will be awarded to applicants that will not only assist in implementing programming to this age group, but also provide training and support to child care staff, center leadership, parents, and families.

Section II: Award Information

Applicants will be required to demonstrate partnership with at least five child care development facilities through a letter of commitment or letter of interest. Family day care homes are eligible to participate in this grant, but can only apply under the fiscal sponsorship of a CBO or approved Family Day Care sponsor.

OSSE encourages applicants to include populations that are systematically underrepresented and children with special needs. Applicants should describe how their programs will be inclusive and equitable.

OSSE will accept one application per organization, however a lead organization may partner with other organization(s) that can provides services in another program area to expand reach. Partner organizations can only appear on one application. Applicants must designate ONE fiscal sponsor to oversee administration and reporting of funds. Applicants may not designate more than one fiscal sponsor. Applicants must use the Healthy Tots Act Wellness Guidelines as a key resource and guide for trainings. The grantee must identify and provide an overview of other resources that will be used.
3.2 Indirect Costs
If a community-based organization has an approved indirect cost rate from the federal government, it may use that rate. If the community-based organization does not have an approved indirect cost rate, it will automatically receive a 10% rate.

3.3 Audits
At any time or times before final payment and for three years thereafter, the District and/or the federal government may audit the applicant’s expenditure statements and source documentation. The applicant cannot at any time prior to the application process nor during the award period be in violation of any previous grant obligations to the District of Columbia government or a Federal agency.

3.4 Grant Award Notice and Payments
In order to be awarded a wellness grant, organizations must establish eligibility by submitting an application to OSSE in accordance with the relevant program statute(s) and this RFA. Once OSSE has fully approved the application and issued an official Grant Award Notification (GAN), grantees may then receive payment for allowable expenditures for which obligation was made during the grant period. OSSE has implemented a reimbursement process for all grantees. Grant award payments are reimbursable on a monthly basis. Program costs must be paid by the grantee to the payee prior to requesting reimbursement; it is not sufficient for costs merely to be incurred. Compliance with programmatic and fiscal implementation and reporting will be considered in paying reimbursement requests. To receive reimbursement for grant program expenditures, OSSE grantees must complete and submit the applicable reimbursement workbook/s electronically.

3.5 Fiscal Sponsor
The fiscal sponsor may be either the applicant or a designated lead organization if an application includes several organizations. If the grant is to be remunerated directly to the lead organization, that organization is then designated as the fiscal sponsor as part of the application.

3.6 Other
Any entity delinquent on District of Columbia debts may not apply.
