Overview of the WIDA Consortium English Language Proficiency Standards

Presentation to the State Board of Education
December 16, 2009

Cathie Carothers, Assistant Superintendent of Secondary and Elementary Education

Bethany Nickerson, State Director of English Language Learners
Timothy Boals, Executive Director of the WIDA Consortium
Who is an English Language Learner (ELL) student in the District of Columbia?

A student who has a language other than English in his or her family background, and who has an English language proficiency level that does not allow the student to fully participate in the general education program of the school (1.0 – 4.9 on the ACCESS for ELLs® test)
What is the ELL population in DC?

- There are approximately 5,900 ELL students in the District of Columbia (4,300 in DCPS; 1,600 in DCPCS), representing 8.4% of the total public school enrollment.
- Approximately 50% were born in the United States.
- More than 130 countries are represented.
- More than 100 different home languages are spoken.
- Spanish, Chinese, Vietnamese, Amharic, and French are the top five languages represented in DC schools.
- Spanish is the predominant home language (approx. 75%).
- Wards 1 and 4 have the highest percentage of ELL student residents, but all wards have ELL representation.
What do programs and instruction look like for ELL students?

• Bilingual/English as a second language (ESL) Programs
  – Dual language/two-way immersion
  – Transitional bilingual
  – Sheltered English
  – Content based ESL
  – Pull-out ESL

• Best Practices for Instruction
  – Integration of language and content
  – Cooperative learning groupings
  – Hands-on experiences and use of visuals and manipulatives
  – Scaffolding and connecting prior knowledge
  – Adaptation of materials
  – Data driven instruction
  – High expectations and challenging standards and curricula
  – Collaboration with general education teachers
  – Professional development for staff
  – Parent and community involvement
What are the expectations for ELL students?

• meet the same high academic standards as all students

• demonstrate improvement in English proficiency each year
What standards are ELL students held accountable to learn?

• Academic Achievement. The District of Columbia Comprehensive Assessment System (DC CAS) and Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) for the ELL Subgroup

• English Language Proficiency. Assessing Comprehension and Communication in English State-to-State for English Language Learners (ACCESS for ELLs®) and Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives (AMAOs)
The WIDA Consortium
Dear Mrs. Robbin

I really not need humanity 20 writing class because since time I come to United State all my friend speak english. Until now everyone understand me and I dont’ need study english. I dont’ know vietnam language. I speak only english. I have no communication problem with my friend in dorm.
My English teacher in high school was the key person to teach me. My teacher explained to me that how important the book was for the student and persuaded me to read many books. I got an A in English throughout high school and I never took ESL. I agree that some students need class but have not made a correct decision to put me in English class. Please do not make me lose face. I have confidence in English.

Five WIDA English Language Proficiency Standards
ELP Standard 1:

English language learners communicate for SOCIAL AND INSTRUCTIONAL purposes within the school setting.
ELP Standard 2:

English language learners communicate information, ideas, and concepts necessary for academic success in the content area of LANGUAGE ARTS.
ELP Standard 3:

English language learners communicate information, ideas, and concepts necessary for academic success in the content area of MATHEMATICS.
ELP Standard 4:

English language learners communicate information, ideas, and concepts for academic success in the content area of SCIENCE.
ELP Standard 5:

English language learners communicate information, ideas, and concepts for academic success in the content area of SOCIAL STUDIES
Four Language Domains

Listening – process, understand, interpret, and evaluate spoken language in a variety of situations

Speaking – engage in oral communication in a variety of situations for a variety of purposes and audiences

Reading – process, interpret, and evaluate written language, symbols, and text with understanding and fluency

Writing – engage in written communication in a variety of forms for a variety of purposes and audiences
Five Grade-Level Clusters

The 2007 WIDA ELP Standards are organized by the following Grade-level clusters:

• PreK–K
• Grades 1–2
• Grades 3–5
• Grades 6–8
• Grades 9–12

MPI
Elements of Model Performance Indicators

The Model Performance Indicator (MPI) consists of three elements:

• The language function describes how students use language to demonstrate their proficiency

• The example topic specifies the context for language instruction, derived from state content standards

• The support includes instructional strategies or tools used to assist students in accessing content necessary for communication; can be sensory, graphic, or interactive

Goal: English Proficient

• An English proficient student could be said to be one who has the ability to perform proficiently on state tests, successfully participate in classes in which only English is spoken, and fully participate in English-speaking social environments.

• English proficient then is the point where students’ English language proficiency becomes less related to academic achievement.

Decision Consistency

• Across WIDA states where the Decision Consistency approach has been used, we find that the flattening out or decline in curves in reading and math happens:

• Between an Overall Composite Proficiency Level of 4.8 and 5.2.
